The guard rail grapple KM 626-S with proven KINSHOFER rotator for loader cranes allows for precise positioning of mobile protection walls. As these walls can be quite long (12 m), they might break when gripping them in the centre. The guard rail grapple finds a remedy due to its 2 small, light grapples that are mounted to the ends of an adjustable cross bar. This cross bar is extendable up to 4500 mm. When put together, the total width does not exceed 2400 mm and can thus be transported crossways on the truck. The mounted rubber inserts at the gripping arms prevent the protection walls from damage when handling them.

Thanks to this tool, the protection walls can be loaded or unloaded from the truck without an additional person.

Non-return valves guarantee a safe operation due to the secure retention of loads even at pressure drops.
